SUAN THIP, the "Enchanting Eden".

On the bank of Chao Phraya River (The River of Kings), Suan Thip lives up to its name.

Amidst its serene natural settings, you can relax and enjoy traditional Thai cuisine with your family, foreign guests or friends.

Suan Thip's unique ambiance makes special occasions like Loy Kratong, New Year's celebration or wedding receptions truly "special" and memorable.

Shady trees, shimmering streams and sensational Thai cuisine.

Enjoy emerald green trees, blooming blossoms and refreshing streams on the bank of Chao Phraya River while dining in the garden.

Suan Thip's dining area is set under the Thai pavilions scattered around the leafy compound. These pavilions have beautiful Thai names such as, Duang - Dok - Mai (Blooming Blossoms), Lampoo Rai (Rows of Lampoo), Lam - Mai - Hawm (Scented Boughs) and Jan - Jamrat - Saeng (Silvery Moon), etc.

Duang Dok Mai is an air-conditioned traditional Thai house whose verandah overlooking the garden is spacious enough to arrange the set of food to suit your style. Six different sizes of Thai pavilions scattered in the garden and on the bank of the River are set to cater for a party of four up to thirty who will sit, Thai styled, on the floor and enjoy traditional Thai meals.

Jan-Jamrat - Saeng Pavilion can accommodate up to 80 guests and is opened only to cater for meetings, seminars or wedding receptions.
